

Abie Musa

Mr. Musa is the founder and CEO of the Dubai based MVL Group, an industry leading defense prime contractor and construction management company with concentrations in the Middle East, Central Asia, and North Africa that provides professional services to companies within the defense, construction, and engineering industries. Its various corporate activities overlap with the oil and gas, defense contracting, and fire-fighting sectors. Mr. Musa holds an MBA from the McDonough Business School of Georgetown University as well as a Global MBA from the ESADE Business School. He earned his Bachelor of Science in Industrial Distribution from the University of Houston.